BOAT REGATTA

Think you can build a boat and float the lazy river? This activity is based on the ambitious notion that teams can build a boat out of unusual supplies to compete in a bonafide regatta—while carrying a passenger! Our “first mates” will be on hand to add fun and humor while groups quickly learn the importance of teamwork and creative problem solving. Each team presents their creation in the “Parade of Boats,” performs their team cheer or song, and “christens” their watercraft as they prepare to test their boat’s seaworthiness around the Lazy River.

Prices start at $50 per person, with a 20-person minimum requirement.

SURVIVOR FORT

Put on your construction hat for this team building event. Have some fun with your crew by constructing a fort that can withstand the barrage of 75 water balloons with a teammate inside! Name your construction company and present your company slogan. The most durable fort with the most creative name wins.

Prices start at $50 per person, with a 20-person minimum requirement.

THE QUEST

This adult scavenger hunt creates a fun atmosphere for everyone to loosen up with music and an MC. The group will be split up into teams. The MC will ask each team to complete a quest in which the team has to find certain items or perform tasks. Points will be awarded in the order that the teams get to the MC with the requested item or successfully perform the task.

Prices start at $40 per person, with a 20-person minimum requirement.

CAN-STRUCTION

Who can sculpt the most original structure using items “bought” at the store? Teams will begin at their table where packages of canned food await them to get started for their structure. After the foreman runs down the worksite rules with the group, they will give each team coins to spend in the store. These coins can be used to buy different colored or shaped packages of food and other decorating items to add variance to their sculptures. Teams must also create a presentation board to introduce and explain their structure design. A group of inspectors can survey all sculptures or participants can vote for their favorite sculpture. All the food used for the construction is donated to Grace Community, a local not-for-profit food bank.

Pricing starts at $50 per person, with a 20-person minimum. A food donation of $500 or more is required, based on group size and event requirements.

THE GREAT RED WAGON

A new toy provides fun and enjoyment and gives a child a sense of pride in having something of their very own. This fun team building event involves creativity, ingenuity, and teamwork. Each team will have to construct and decorate a red wagon that they will take with them on a fun scavenger hunt. Teams will complete challenges around the resort to win and collect toys inside the wagon. The team with the most toys in their wagon in the least amount of time wins. All toy-filled wagons will be donated to children from the Boys and Girls Club.

Prices start at $55 per person, with a 20-person minimum requirement.

HYGIENE TOTES

Gather your philanthropy team for a heartwarming event to pack hygiene products for a local homeless child here in Flagler County. Each group has an opportunity to contribute to their philanthropic side. Stations such as tote decoration and inspirational notes will be set up around the room. Create an assembly line for packing items, with each team member responsible for a specific task, such as packing shampoos, conditioners, razors, and much more. This promotes teamwork and ensures an efficient packing process. This Lunchbox Love Assembly not only contributes to a good cause but also fosters team bonding and a sense of shared purpose among your philanthropy team.

Pricing starts at $45 per person, plus tax and service fees, with a 20-person minimum. A hygiene supply donation valued at $500 or more is required, based on group size and event requirements.

PAWS FOR CLAWS

Participants will work together to assemble pet care kits filled with essential items such as food, treats, toys and blankets. Once completed, the kits will be donated to the Flagler Humane Society, turning teamwork into meaningful support for animals in the local community.

Pricing starts at $50 per person. A minimum $500 donation toward pet supplies is also required, based on group size and event requirements.
